Made-Up Monsters

Monsters are imaginary creatures.

This means that we can create our own monsters!

We can use our own ideas to make up the monsters.

We can choose what our monsters look like and add any features we want.

What Is a Feature?

This monster has two eyes.

What other features can you see on this monster?

Talk to your partner.

two eyes

wide mouth

white tusks

floppy ears

black nose

orange fur

yellow tummy

big paws

tiny feet

spotty tail

Creating a Monster

Let's make a monster together.

First, we need to choose a shape for our monster's body.

Creating a Monster

Let's add a head and a face.
How many eyes does it have?
How big is its nose?
What do its ears look like?
What shape is its mouth?
Does it have tusks?

Creating a Monster

Does the monster have arms or legs?

Does it have paws or claws?

Does it have tentacles?

Creating a Monster

Let's think about the other features a monster might have.

Shall we add wings?

Does it have horns?

Has it got a tail?

What about spikes?

Creating a Monster

What is covering the monster's body?
Does it have fur?
Has it got scaly skin?
Is it covered in feathers?

Creating a Monster

What colour shall we make the monster?

Does it have any patches of other colours?

Does it have any spots, stripes or patterns?

Draw Your Monster

Now it's your turn to create your very own monster!

Decide on the size and shape of your monster.

Then, add the features.

Finally, choose the colours to complete your creation.

Describing a Monster

Let's think about how we would describe our new monster.

What words or phrases could we use to describe it?

What adjectives would help us?

Think about these things:

size

personality

shape

features

adjective – a describing word, e.g. huge, kind, green, excited

Describing a Monster

Let's try to put some of our ideas into sentences.

Here's an example of one sentence that could describe a monster:

The huge monster had a long green tail with a pointy spike at the end.

Talk to your partner. Think of a sentence to describe something about the monster we have made together.

Write Your Monster Description

Now, think about how you would describe your own monster.

Write down some words and phrases that you could use.

Then, write your own sentences to describe the monster you have created.

Mystery Monster!

We are now going to play 'Mystery Monster'!

1. Turn your drawing over so that no one can see it.
2. Take your drawing and writing and find another table to work on. Make sure you are sitting with different people who have not seen your monster yet.
3. Put all your drawings in the middle of the table and mix them up. Then, turn them over so everyone can see them. Don't tell anyone which is yours!
4. Take it in turns to read your own monster descriptions out loud.
5. Can your friends work out which monster is yours by listening to your description?
